Individual Brainstorm

 Question #1: Describe your website subject in detail:

What do you already know about it? (50+ words)

My website should serve as a safe haven for women to interact, express their feelings, and discuss subjects that are important to them. When it comes to employment opportunities, there is a lot of discrimination against women. I want to create a way to educate women and support their aspirations. The gender pay gap in its entirety is a major social justice issue. Despite exerting their full effort, women are not viewed as sufficient at their jobs solely because of their gender. In order to empower women, I want to give them a voice and provide the tools they need to develop intellectually and as people. Having daily mental health check-ins and a blog outlet for them to vent their thoughts is another way I wish to encourage them.

What do you need to find out? (20+ words)

I need to find out how to gather all these resources and what will prompt women to feel safe and welcome in my website. I also need to research on women's opinion on gender pay gap, incorporating surveys to know their perspective on this issue.

Who is impacted by this issue? (20+ words)

? Question #2: Describe your proposed website in detail:

What is the purpose of your website? (30+ words)

I need to figure out how to compile all of these resources and what will make women feel secure and welcome on my website. In order to understand women's perspectives on the gender pay gap, I also need to conduct research on their opinions.

Who is your intended user? (30+ words)

Women particularly Black women. There are services accessible for women of various ages, including young teen girls. Additionally, women in the tech industry because there will be plenty of tech resources.

How will your user interact with your website? (30+ words)

The drop-down buttons and clear writing on my website make it user-friendly. The design is attention-grabbing, and the user may easily interact by clicking on buttons.

Wireframe

? When creating your wireframe, ask yourself:

- What about your social justice issue do you want shared on your website?
- How do you want your content and website structured?

? Copy/Paste a screenshot of your wireframe or a link to it below (if using a link, make sure it is publicly viewable).
